HEED THE CALL

The groundswell of opposition among scientists, faith leaders, tech companies, nongovernmental groups, and ordinary citizens shows that the public understands that killer robots cross a moral threshold. Their ethical, legal, and security concerns, shared by many governments, deserve an immediate response.

For more information, read the report: Heed the Call: A Moral and Legal Imperative to Ban Killer Robots

HUMAN RIGHTS WATCH coordinates the Campaign to Stop Killer Robots, a coalition of nongovernmental organizations that is working to ban fully autonomous weapons and thereby retain meaningful human control over the use of force.
