To Human Rights Watch

Human Rights Watch issued on 15 July 2015 report to public opinion in which accused our units recruiting those under the legal age in hostilities. We highly appreciate report of the Human Rights Watch and their care about humanitarian laws and achieve them in the international community and their serious attention about the commitment of our units to humanitarian laws. We will follow up cases that have referenced in the report. Although the report stated that there is progress in the cases of the commitment of our units to the signed instruments with Geneva Call, also they referred to the brutality of the attack waged by Daash the terrorist organization without distinction child from women and old man from fighter. Daash don not respect any rights and laws in light of his open and dirty war on our people, our land and our dignity. Despite all this and that we have signed the instruments of Geneva Call to prevent the recruitment of those under the legal age because of our belief to what approved by the regulations of human rights in a free society. In addition to the individual cases that do not express our policy, we the only military force that has real steps on the ground in hell of the contradictions in Syria. Therefore, the demobilization of the number of those under the legal age, open certain centers for them far from the battle fronts and even punish officers who contributed in violating what dose not accepted to our principles before laws and regulations. Moreover, we are the only military force on the ground in Syria open for the humanitarian and human rights organizations and deal with all transparency in order to reach what is best. We affirm our commitment to what we have signed in the agreements, despite the great challenges that we referred to earlier as a result of the cultural situation of community and deteriorating economic situation, in addition to declared war on us by the most dangerous and deadly terrorist organization. At the time when we are asked by a free society comply with the provisions of the regulations of human rights in the midst of the envelope extraordinary that we are going through in which our people threatened by genocide. We also look forward to the free world to offer a helping hand to support us and together we can find a healthy environment and appropriate to overcome these obstacles in by establishing the principles of freedom and democracy.
